Stephanie, I am expecting the chemical analysis results for the sand to start coming in tomorrow and I will share them as I get them.

Hi Stan,

We're reviewing the capping plan and will get you any comments ASAP. But first, I have a quick question – can we see the testing results of all the material, particularly the sand? We need to review and approve of the results prior to placement.

If you've already sent this and I've missed it, I apologize – I'm still working through my backlog of emails.

Thanks,

Stephanie

Mike and Stephanie,

Attached is the Capping Plan for your review and information. As I discussed with Mike this afternoon, I will arrange a teleconference for Wednesday morning so that if there any questions, they can be addressed.
